Notes

1. There was a moment in the Poetry Society Group Dance tonight, where the soloist flute lost its place, causing the music to sound different. We got back on track with the music quickly afterwards and continued on with no issue.
2. One of the chairs broke early on in the judgment scene. This caused one of the dancers to be unable to stand on it during the choreography. Luckily, we have an extra chair that is unused during the show that we will use tomorrow so that we are not down a chair.
